of FLOWERS

"Any man that walks the mead,

In bird, or blade, or bloom, may find—
According as his humours lead—
A meaning suited to his mind."

HOLLY

Fringed by the rime's silver fingers with lace, Welcome bright
holly-leaves,
like a kind face Beaming with promise of glee!
Red berries shining against the pure snow, Oh, how we love you, and look for your glow!
Winter's prized jewels are ye.

IN Eastern lands they talk in flowers,
And they tell in a garland their loves and cares :
Each blossom that blooms in their garden bowers,
On its leaves a mystic language bears.

The Rose is a sign of joy and love,
Young blushing love in its earliest dawn ;
And the mildness that suits the gentle dove,
From the Myrtle's snowy flower is drawn.

Innocence shines in the Lily's bell.
Pure as the heart in its native heaven ;
Fame's bright star and glory's swell,
In the glossy leaf of the Bay are given.

The silent, soft, and humble heart,
In the Violet's hidden sweetness breathes ;
And the tender soul that cannot part,
A twine of Evergreen fondly wreathes.

The Cypress that daily shades the grave,
Is sorrow that mourns her bitter lot ;
And faith, that a thousand ills can brave,
Speaks in thy blue leaves, Forget-me-not.

Then gather a wreath from the garden bowers,
And tell the wish of thy heart in flowers.

Perceval.

Part I.

" How charming in some rural spot,
 Combining love with garden plot,
 At once to cultivate one's flowers,
 And one's epistolary powers,
 Growing one's own choice words and fancies
 In orange-tubs and beds of pansies."

Leigh Hunt.

Blush
Rose.

We plainly read the Zephyr's stolen kiss
In your deep blush,
so where's
the use to seal

Your lips so cunningly,

when all the world Calls you the
"flower of love?"

A POSIE.

O Luve will venture in where it daurna weel be seen;
 O Luve will venture in where wisdom aince has been;
 But I will down yon river rove, amang the wood sae green—
 And a' to pu' a posie to my ain dear May.

The Primrose I will pu', the firstling of the year,
 And I will pu' the Pink, the emblem o' my dear,
 For she's the Pink o' womankind, and blooms without a peer —
 And a' to be a posie to my ain dear May.

I'll pu' the budding Rose when Phœbus peeps in view,
 For it's like a bonnie kiss o' her sweet bonnie mou';
 The Hyacinth for constancy, wi' its unchanging blue—
 And a' to be a posie to my ain dear May.

Burns.

Lily.

A thing of beauty is a joy for ever:
Its loveliness increases;
it will never Pass into nothingness;
but still will keep
A bower quiet for us, and a sleep full of sweet dreams, and health, and quiet breathing.

Keats

A LOVE LETTER.

An exquisite invention this,
Saying all one feels and thinks
In clever Daffodils and Pinks ;
In puns of Tulips ; and in phrases,
Charming for their truth, of Daisies.

A letter comes, just gathered, We Dote on its tender brilliancy,
Inhale its delicate expressions
Of Balm and Pea, and its Confessions
Made with as sweet a Maiden's Blush
As ever inorn bedewed on bush :
('T is in reply to one of ours,
Made of the most convincing flowers),
Then, after we have kissed its wit,
And heart, in water putting it (To keep its remarks fresh) go round
Our little eloquent plot of ground,
And with enchanted hands compose
Our answer,—all of Lily, Rose,
And little darling (Mignonette) ;
Of Look at me, and Call me to you (Words that while they greet, go through you) :
Of Thought, of Flames, Forget-me-not,
Bridewort—in short, the whole blest lot
Of vouchers for a lifelong kiss—
And literally, breathing bliss !

Leigh Hunt.

Part II.

" Language is slow,
Yet theirs is a love
Simple and sure, that asks no discipline
Of weary years, the language of the soul Told through the eye."

Mrs. Sigourney.

Forget
me not.

These fresh forget me nots
so softly blue,
Say that our love lives ever leal
and true:
Could I, a little while, forgotten be,
These fairy blossoms still should plead for me,
And so,
dear heart, this thought shall please me yet,
Although I know you never will forget.

THE LANGUAGE OF FLOWERS.

" Teach thee their language ? Sweet, I know no tongue,
No mystic art those gentle things declare ;
I ne'er could trace the schoolman's brick among Created things so delicate and rare.

Their language ? Prithee, why, they are themselves
But bright thoughts syllabled to shape and hue,
The tongue that erst was spoken by the elves,
When tenderness as yet within the world was new.

" And, oh ! do not their soft and starry eyes—
Now bent to earth, to heaven now meekly pleading,
Their incense fainting as it seeks the skies,
Yet still from earth with freshening hope receding.
Say, do not these to every heart declare,
With all the silent eloquence of truth,
The language that they speak is Nature's prayer,
To give her back those spotless days of youth ? "

C. F. Hoffman.
